FEDERAL PROBE SINKING DEEP

District Attorney Miller Seeks Identity of Check Signer.

STUBS ARE IN HIS POSSESSION

Former Bookkeeper in Office of Iron Workers' Union Appears Before Grand Jury in Session at Indianapolis—Have Evidence in 100 Explosions During Past Five Years. Confession of McManigal Furnishes Much Valuable Information.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 15.—The federal grand jury, as a direct lead into the heart of the alleged dynamite conspiracy, took up the question as to who furnished money for purchasing and paying the expenses of carrying about the country the explosives by which more than 100 structures were blown up.

Mrs. Andrew J. Hull, now of Kimball, Neb., who, as Miss Edith Winebrenner, was bookkeeper for the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and who was familiar with its money receipts and disbursements, was closely questioned by District Attorney Miller, while into the grand jury were taken the stubs of checks and accounting records of the association during the five years in which the explosions took place. It was during a large part of these five years that Orrie E. McManigal, according to his confession, did dynamite for John J. McNamara, the convicted secretary-treasurer, and often in company with James B. McNamara.

Said He Would Fix It.
An important feature of McManigal's confession attracted attention in connection with Mrs. Hull's visit to the district attorney's office. This was the admission by McManigal that he usually received about $200 for each job, and that when he complained that part of the money was being held back from him, James B. McNamara admitted seeing the stub and had said John J. would fix it up. McManigal in his confession told that at least $5,000 had been paid him, and said some person other than John J. McNamara did the paying, but after he and James B. McNamara blew up a viaduct in Cleveland on June 22, 1910, he had a dispute with the man over the amount he was to receive, and in consequence "J. J." took the matter in hand all the way through. For the Cleveland job McManigal said he and James B. were paid $100 each.

JURY NEARLY DONE LOS ANGELES CASE INDICTMENTS SOON

Indictments Expected at Los Angeles by Tomorrow Afternoon.
Los Angeles, Dec. 15.—Indictments expected tomorrow as a result of the federal inquiry here in connection with the alleged nationwide dynamite conspiracy. Immediately after the indictments are returned Judge Wellborn of the United States district court will issue bench warrants for the accused persons. These will be served with the utmost dispatch by the United States marshal, and within 24 hours after the warrants are issued it is more than probable that from four to six persons will be under arrest, several of them prominent in organized labor on the Pacific coast.
McManigal probably will be taken to Indianapolis to repeat there the testimony he has given here. It is believed he will start east with Malcolm McLaren and other Burns detainees not later than Monday.

MISS MARION CAMPBELL

Field Secretary For Ohio Commission For Blind.

CLEVELAND WOMAN WILL AID THE BLIND

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—Miss Marion Campbell of Cleveland has been elected field secretary for the Ohio Commission for the Blind. While Miss Campbell will have her headquarters at Columbus, she will spend much of her time in traveling, finding work for the blind girls and women of the state, organizing guilds and making personal visits to the sightless in their own homes.

Boost Capital City

Ten Delegates Want Constitutional Convention in Columbus.

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—Reasons why Columbus is the only place for the meeting of the constitutional convention are set out in letters mailed to delegates to the constitutional convention by 10 members representing counties scattered over the state. The writers point out that the convention should not be placed under obligations to any individual or community for any favor.

It is pointed out that in the statehouse the meeting place is free, but that elsewhere the state will not be able to pay rent, because the convention is limited in expenses to the amount appropriated by the general assembly.

The message is signed by E. D. Shaw of Carroll, G. W. Miller of Crawford, F. P. Miller of Fairfield, Frank P. Lambert of Jackson, George H. Colton of Portage, John L. Baum of Ross, A. Ross Read of Summit, J. W. Harbarger, E. A. Peters and George W. Knight of Franklin.

New Trial Ordered For Hyde

Escaped Hyde Juror Returns but Mind Is Unbalanced.

Kansas City, Dec. 15.—Eighty-four hours after he climbed through the transom over the door of his room at the Centropolis hotel and escaped from the custody of the deputy marshal, Harry Waldron, the missing Hyde juror, was brought into court, pale and haggard from dodging the police of three cities. He was caught at his home after he had walked in through a cordon of police.

Physicians declared he was undoubtedly insane. Judge Porterfield examined the juror to determine whether the juror should be discharged on account of Waldron's mental condition. The judge stated he would dismiss the entire jury. Another trial will be called immediately, it is said.

Kiderlen-Waechter, Germany's Minister of Foreign Affairs

ALFRED VON KIDERLEN (he pronounces it with the accent on the second syllable) WAECHTER, imperial minister of foreign affairs, unlike most German diplomats, is the son of a bourgeois, though his mother, from whom he takes the second part of his name, was a baroness. What his colleagues regard as his humble origin, however, has not hampered his career. He entered the diplomatic service through the influence of his mother's family and soon became socially and politically prominent. He was a member of the much talked about "Round Table," but was not involved in the scandal that ruined his friend, Prince Eulenburg. He has been looked upon as Germany's "strong man" among her diplomats, but the dissatisfaction manifested by a large section of German opinion—including that of the crown prince—over the results of his handling of the Morocco negotiations has been a serious blow to his prestige. One of his characteristics is said to be plain speaking, even to his imperial master, and he was for some years out of favor because he ventured to tell the kaiser that his protest (on a technicality) against the defeat of his yacht Meteor by a British boat was bad policy.

NEGRO IS EXECUTED IN THE OPERA HOUSE

Colored Preacher Who Incited Race Riot in Which White Planter Was Killed Is Launched Into Great Beyond in Presence of Victim's Relatives, Who Occupy Boxes and Front Seats—Advises Members of Race to Leave Whisky Alone.

Jackson, Ga., Dec. 15.—Rev. William Turner, a negro preacher, convicted of murder for having incited a race riot in which Jesse Singley, a prominent planter, was shot to death, was legally executed in the opera house here.

The sheriff had originally planned to hang the negro in the jailyard, but he feared the crowd would break in. The weather was also very disagreeable, so he decided to hang the negro in Kink's opera house, so that the relatives of the murdered man who wished to see the hanging would not have to stand in the rain. Gallows Erected on Stage.

The gallows were erected on the stage of the opera house and the negro was marched to the scene. Before the trap was sprung the negro confessed that he incited the riot and that he also fired the shot which killed Singley. He warned the members of his race to let whisky alone and to be advised by the whites.

In the boxes and front seats of the opera house were many relatives and friends of the murdered man. Besides these there were not many other persons present, as the sheriff refused to issue many tickets. There was a great crowd, however, of people outside the opera house, and guards had to be stationed to keep them from breaking in.

Three of Turner's sons are in jail at Atlanta awaiting trial for the same crime for which their father was hanged. They were removed to Atlanta, as they would have been lynched if kept here.

JUDGE A. Z. BLAIR

Creates Stir by Violent Attack on Secretary Wilson.

BLAIR SPRINGS ANOTHER SENSATION

Washington, Dec. 15.—The dismissal of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson from the cabinet because he participated in the brewers' congress at Chicago as honorary president recently, was demanded here at the National Anti-Saloon league convention. The demand for Mr. Wilson's retirement was made by Judge A. Z. Blair of Ohio in a speech which was applauded to the echo. He said if President Taft did not dismiss the secretary of agriculture he would fight his renomination with all his power next year.

Davis Pays The Penalty

Negro Who Killed Two Hungarians Executed in Pen.

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—Thomas Davis, colored, who murdered two Hungarians employed on a construction gang north of Circleville, died in the electric chair at the penitentiary shortly after midnight this morning.

Davis shot and killed two Hungarians in September, 1910, while intoxicated. He had been drinking all day in a saloon of Circleville. He ran short of money and acquired a revolver. After dusk he left the saloon and met the Hungarians on a lonesome highway, and when they refused to hand him over their cash he shot them.

In a statement to Chaplain Richards, Davis declared that Frank Taylor, colored, serving a life sentence for complicity in the crime, is innocent. He said that it was Taylor's revolver with which he shot the Hungarians, but that the latter did not know about it.

For the first time in two years the pen annex is now uninhabited.

Willing to Foot Bills.

St. Louis, Dec. 15.—That the employers of the United States are practically a unit for a workmen's compensation system, the burden of which they are willing to bear from 75 to 80 per cent, was made known here through the special investigating committee appointed by the National Association of Manufacturers to visit Europe and study conditions and make recommendations.

Walter to Be Executed.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15.—At last, after nearly two years of delay, the court of appeals has handed down its decision in the case of Albert W. Wolter, the murderer of little Ruth Wheeler. This decision emphatically confirms the verdict of the jury that found Wolter guilty of murder in the first degree. He was originally sentenced to die on June 26, 1910.

GOMEZ IS MAN BEHIND REVOLT

Is Proclaimed President of Mexico by Zapata.

OROZCO ALSO GETS PLACE

President Madero Finds Himself Face to Face With Same Situation Which Confronted Diaz One Year Ago—Men Who Stood by Him in Trying Days Are Now Flocking to Standard of General Reyes—Uprising Due Sunday.

Mexico City, Dec. 15.—Emiliano Zapata, by issuing a proclamation declaring Emilio Vasquez Gomez president of Mexico and Pascual Orozco chief of staff, bears out statements of Madero's friends for some time that Gomez was fomenting a revolution, and further casts suspicion upon the loyalty of Orozco, already under accusation of having offered his services to Reyes. Zapata has been in arms continuously since the signing of the peace pact between Madero and the federal government, and refused all attempts of Madero to induce him to cease fighting.

Simultaneously with the issuance of the proclamation new uprisings face the government in Nuevo Leon and Jalisco, where armed opposition has hitherto not been encountered. This puts Puebla, Vera Cruz, Morelos, Yucatan, Nuevo Leon and Jalisco in the revolution column against Madero, if not the whole of each state, at least considerable men in each state.

General Figueroa, now in Madero's service, was defeated in Morelos by Zapata's men. This is the biggest reverse the federals have received in more than two months.

That the revolutionists are becoming thoroughly organized is evidenced by their manner of action. They are now issuing receipts for all property taken, the receipts made redeemable "after the triumph of the cause," similar to the paper issued by Madero and his men when they were carrying on their rebellion a year ago.

Uprising Due Sunday.

Monterey, Mexico, Dec. 15.—According to documents in possession of the government, next Sunday is the day set for the general uprising of the armed followers of General Bernardo Reyes. Orders have been given for extraordinary vigilance on the part of the federal troops on that day.

Veteran Actress Dies.

New York, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Arthur McKee Rankin, the "Kitty Blanchard" of those who remember the old Union Square theater, was found dead in the bathroom of her apartments at the hotel Belvedere. Dr. J. W. Gibbs said that Mrs. Rankin's death was probably due to cerebral hemorrhages. She had been stricken while preparing to take a bath.

Secret Session Divorce Trial

A great deal of interest attaches to the William S. Beatty vs. Emma Beatty divorce case which is in progress before Judge Patton Friday.

The parties to the suit are from the Jeffersonville neighborhood and quite a number of witnesses have been subpoenaed in the case.

Developments of a more or less sensational character were expected in the case, and owing to the nature of the testimony spectators have been excluded and the trial made as private as possible.

Frank A. Chaffin and Nye Gregg are attorneys for the plaintiff and H. H. Sanderson for the defendant.

Dr. C. C. Hazard Delivers Address

The State Osteopathic Convention held at Columbus this week passed off very successfully, with between a hundred and a hundred and fifty delegates in attendance, fine papers delivered by notable osteopaths and a genuine interest in advanced osteopathic science.

The state convention was the largest that has ever been held and shows a gratifying growth over the one of last year.

Dr. C. C. Hazard, of this city, was one of the speakers and made a notable demonstration on "Little's Diseases," showing the diagnosis and treatment of forms of infantile weakness and paralysis. Dr. Hazard has met with phenomenal success along these lines in his own practice.

Dr. Conkling, of Battle Creek, Mich., gave one of the finest demonstrations of the convention, explaining 3500 cases of collapsed and dilated stomachs as shown under the clinical report by way of X Ray examination.

Practically all these cases have been cured by means of the X Ray disclosures and scientific osteopathic treatment.

Dr. C. H. Bowen, of Grant hospital, Columbus, followed with a second demonstration along similar lines and also showed the result of tuberculosis by X Ray treatment, something new in X Radiology. The demonstration of tuberculosis by the X Ray machine was one of the vitally interesting things of the convention.

An able demonstration was given by Dr. Fryotte, of Chicago, of different movements and articulation by means of a prepared skeleton, and Dr. Prescott, of Loraine, presented an excellent paper on "Exophthalmic Goitres," presenting new methods of treatment.

An elegant banquet was served at the Chittenden Hotel Wednesday night. Dr. and Mrs. Hazard and Dr. Flo Rankin Dunnington, represented the Osteopathic school from this city.

HEADACHE?—IT'S YOUR LIVER

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic Is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel. They do all of calomel's work without any of its bad after effects.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Dame Nature Plays Prank on Baby Born in Toronto.

Toronto, Dec. 15.—An unprecedented freak of nature is under observation at the Children's hospital here. It is a baby girl that, just born, lies in a cot with its heart beating like an ordinary child, but with this difference, that the heart is outside the thorax instead of inside. There is neither skin nor bone to protect the vital organ which is hanging out on the chest wall. The doctors can see the blood rush into the chamber and watch them fill up when the heart contracts, and the blood is seen forced into the arteries to be distributed through the body.

Even women who lack the sense of humor want to be jollied all the time.

A PASTOR 50 YEARS

Rev. John Cowan in One Church
 That Long.

Half a Century Ago a Young Man
 Came to a Missouri Community
 and Has Been Pastor There Ever Since.

Fulton, Mo.—Fifty years the pastor
 of one church. That is the record of
 Rev. Dr. John Fleming Cowan. Recently the people in northeast Calla-way county entered upon a two-days'
 celebration in his honor.

For half a century Doctor Cowan has served the Old Auxvasse Presbyterian church as pastor. For two score
 years and ten he has presided as spiritual adviser and servant of a church
 that is in a sense the mother church
 of many of those now in existence in this section.

Doctor Cowan came to the Old Auxvasse church as a young man of twenty-four. The country was then with strife and the lines were sharply drawn. He was a man of southern beliefs and his people were of the same mind. He fitted into the post and he has fitted there ever since.

Auxvasse church is so-called because
 it stands on a high elevation in a big bend of the Auxvasse river, a stream
 that derived its name from the French. It is on the highway between Williamsburg and McCredle, two villages in the northeast part of Callaway
 county. The church was organized
 June 30, 1828, by pioneers from Kentucky and Virginia. Three buildings have served as meeting places for the congregation since that time. All of them have been modest structures.
 The present church is a frame building and is extremely simple.

Doctor Cowan has been satisfied to labor among these industrious, honest
 and worthy people. His congregation
 has been satisfied to listen to the plain, yet convincing sermons of the man who has served them from early

THE REV.
 JOHN FLEMING COWAN

 CHURCH

youth until the declining years of his life. Nowhere in this section is a community of better people and nowhere is there a man of the cloth
 who has followed nearer in the footsteps of the man whose teachings he has endeavored to emulate than Doctor Cowan. Idealism has been demonstrated in its fullest sense.

When the preachers of the pioneer
 days came to serve the congregation
 at Old Auxvasse they found a church built of logs. In 1840 a church of brick was erected. Then in 1870 came
 the building that is still serving as
 the home of worship.

Doctor Cowan was born at Potosi,
 Mo., March 8, 1837. Much of his early education was gained through his father, Rev. John F. Cowan, one of the early Presbyterian ministers of the state. He graduated from Westminster college in 1858 and then took a theological course at Princeton Seminary, completing his work there in 1861.

Rev. Mr. Cowan lived in the country near the church until his wife died
 and his daughter married. His wife
 was Miss Jane Grant, a native of Callaway county. In 1888 Mr. Cowan moved to Fulton, where he is teaching
 modern languages in Westminster college. These new duties did not lessen
 his love for the pastoral work of the Old Auxvasse church and he continued in the pastorate.

He has preached to the congregation
 of the Old Auxvasse church 2,500

 nerals. Of this number 65 were men

Raised Check
Placed in Jail

Adam Clifton, a resident of near Waterloo, is locked up in the Mt.
 Sterling prison charged with raising a check from $14.50 to $140.50.

The check was drawn upon the First National Bank of Mt. Sterling and given by John T. Davis. Clifton is a single man and a painter.
 So far as known Clifton has never been in trouble before, but the present trouble is enough to send him to the Ohio penitentiary if he is convicted.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Boys Spike Rails to Track.
 Medina, O., Dec. 15.—Accused of carrying out two plots to wreck a Cleveland & Southwestern traction
 line limited two miles north of Medina, Earl Kreger, 13, and Earl Sherman, 17, are under arrest. Fence rails
 were laid on the track on a sharp
 curve and held in place by spikes driven into the ties. E. I. Hills, a farmer near the curve, discovered the obstruction and removed it. Two days later another obstruction was found on the track. The place was watched, with the result that young Kreger, the son of a farmer, and
 Sherman, who lives with an uncle,
 were arrested.

Girl's Slayer Pleads Guilty.
 Newark, O., Dec. 15.—Don More-
 land, farmhand, indicted for first degree murder for the killing of Elsie Henthorne, 12-year-old school girl, on a lonely road near Pataskalia, last March, pleaded guilty to manslaughter
 before Judge Nicholas of Coshocton here, shortly after the work of securing a jury had been started.
 Moreland will be sentenced next Thursday. The penalty is from one to 20 years in the pen.

Sues Game Warden.
 Chardon, O., Dec. 15.—Game laws
 of Ohio probably will be given a thorough test in the Geauga county courts as the result of a suit for $10,000 damages filed by John Tell of Cleveland against Alfred J.
 Rhodes, game warden of Geauga
 county. Rhodes arrested Tell in Russell township Oct. 20, on the charge of killing a rabbit out of season.

Prepare For Sunday Revival.
 Canton, O., Dec. 15.—Rev. J. A.
 Grimm, 72, and Rev. L. M. Boyer, 70,
 two white-haired Canton pastors,
 joined 30 other ministers and church
 men in the erection of a huge tabernacle which is to be used by Rev.
 Billy Sunday when he opens a six weeks' campaign here Dec. 31.

Carries His Own District.
 Bridgeport, O., Dec. 15.—Early returns from the miners' unions in this district on the vote for election of
 president of the United Mine Workers of America indicate Thomas L.
 Lewis will carry this district, at least, by an overwhelming majority.

Train Kills Farmer.
 Marion, O., Dec. 15.—Samuel Allen, 60, wealthy farmer, living three miles south of Larue, was hit and instantly killed by train at Larue
 street crossing.

"BEST ON EARTH"

This is the verdict of R. J. Howell,
 Tracey, O., who bought Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for his wife.
 "Her case was the worst I have ever seen, and looked like a sure case of consumption. Her lungs were sore
 and she coughed almost incessantly
 and her voice was hoarse and weak.
 Foley's Honey and Tar Compound
 brought relief at once and less than three bottles effected a complete cure." Without opiates or harmful drugs of any kind Foley's Honey and Tar Compound stops coughs and cures colds. Do not accept any substitute. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Where a man with a bank account
 is imposed upon by a crook, who obtains from him a check, the maker
 of the check cannot have recourse
 against the bank which cashed the same. This is the unanimous opinion of the Ohio Supreme court, Chief Justice W. T. Spear, delivering the same.

James McHenry, of Zanesville,
 was introduced by a resident of that
 city to a stranger giving the name
 of George Thresh, of Otsego, procuring a loan of $2,580 on a farm which he professed to own. Examining the title, and without taking any
 means of identifying the stranger,
 McHenry loaned him the money,
 drawing a check on the Old Citizens'
 bank, of Zanesville.

It turned out soon after the check
 was cashed that the stranger was an impostor. McHenry sued the bank
 for the value of the check, but the inferior courts refused him a verdict.

Xenia Taxes Drop Nearly $50,000

Xenia taxpayers have nearly $50,- 000 less taxes this year than last,
and whether the city will have enough to meet its expense is a question which has not been decided, although the taxpayers are of the opinion that the one per cent. tax law is a money saver.

In 1910 the tax duplicate for Xenia was $4,011,741 upon which the taxpayers of Xenia paid $168,- 493.26, exclusive of all special assessments, such as sewer and street paying. The tax duplicate for 1911 is $7,955,853 an increase of almost four millions of dollars over the duplicate of 1910. On the 1911 duplicate, the taxpayers, under a rate of 1.50, will pay $119,337.88, exclusive of assessments for sewer, street paving, etc.
This is a saving of $49,155.38 for the taxpayers of the city.

In round numbers the State fund
is short $2,000; the county $8,000;
the township $2,000; the schools, $12,000 and the city, $26,000. In regard to the shortage of $26,000 in the city fund an explanation is necessary. This shortage was due largely to the fact that the Sinking Fund cut its levy almost in half. In 1910 the Sinking Fund Board levied 10 mills, thus deriving about $40,000 in taxes. In 1911 this Board levied only 3 1-2 mills, thus deriving on the new duplicate about $28,000.

The entire duplicate for Greene county will amount to more than $40,000,000 as compared with the 1910 duplicate of $19,428,845.

THE SALARY ORDINANCE.

While frankly admitting that the financial reward given faithful officials in cities of the size of Washington is wholly inadequate to compensate them for the services demanded of them in the discharge of their official duties, the great majority of thinking people of Washington are inclined to agree with many of the statements of the Mayor given in his reasons for vetoing the salary ordinance.

While there is no general disposition to question the justness of action to increasing the salary of faithful and capable public officials, it would seem that "Do it now" is not applicable under present conditions.

Matters financial in public affairs are in more or less of a chaotic condition in every municipality in the state and until the new and revolutionary tax laws have been thoroughly tried out and conditions have adjusted themselves to the workings of that law, the amount which can be derived in the way of public revenue is in a large measure speculative with indications that economy along all lines of expenditure must be practiced.

It is to be hoped that conditions in the next year or two will present a brighter prospect, either by actual proof of the wisdom of the new tax law or by its repeal, but until that time comes unnecessary expenditures must be barred if a condition of municipal solvency is to be sustained.

A healthy condition of the city's finances and a nicely adjusted and smoothly working system of receipts and expenditures which will insure an ability to take care of necessary fixed and incidental charges as they arise, and with a prospect of being able to pay for needed improvements as conditions come about demanding them, is more to be desired than a crop of high salaried officers.

Home loving and city loving officials must and do agree with that view. The existence of true civic pride is a wholesome condition of affairs in any community and means more in the way of progress along all lines than any other one thing but true civic pride cannot exist with an empty treasury.

The first step to municipal progress is to get our own "house in order" and those charged with the grave responsibility of administering public affairs cannot afford to allow themselves to be deluded into the belief that this work can be accomplished by beginning at the wrong end.

We should in times like these be mindful of the fact that for a century, Washington councilmen received no salary at all.

Needs of the Nation

Capital and Labor Unity

By Governor JOHN A. DIX, of New York

THE INDUSTRIAL STRIKE WAS ONCE THE ACCEPTED MEANS OF SETTling DISPUTES BETWEEN LABOR AND CAPITAL, BUT TODAY IT IS SUPERSEDED BY THE ARBITRAL TRIBUNAL.

THE WORLD NEEDS INDUSTRIAL PEACE, PEACE FOUNDED ON JUSTICE, RIGHT AND HUMAN BROTHERHOOD. THE WORLD NEEDS ECONOMIC PEACE. THE WORLD NEEDS A CESSATION OF DEMAGOGIC ATTACKS AND APPEALS TO CLASS PREJUDICE.

This nation of ours can maintain its commanding position as a pioneer in the ENDURING PROGRESS AND CIVILIZATION of mankind only in the measure that there is participation in public affairs, in civic control and in municipal, state and national government by PATRIOTIC AND UNSELFISH MEN OF BUSINESS in every state in the Union.

The time has come for WORDS OF PEACE AND JUSTICE. Economic and political evils have existed and do exist. They exist in every country in the world.

REFORM IS NEEDED IN MANY DIRECTIONS. YET IT REMAINS ABSOLUTELY TRUE THAT THIS NATION OF OURS IS SOUND IN EVERY FIBER, IS STILL THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY AND THAT IN BUSINESS AND FINANCE ITS LEADERS AND PROMINENT FIGURES ARE UNSURPASSED IN THE WORLD FOR HIGH AIMS, PERSONAL HONESTY, CLEAN CONDUCT AND FIDELITY TO IDEALS.

The relations of "capital to labor"—it is a well worn phrase, yet capital and labor are, if not synonymous, at least interblending terms, for the capitalist is a toiler, even if only with his brain, and the laborer is a capitalist, even if his sole capital be that of brawn. EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYED ARE COMING TO A BETTER UNDERSTANDING. Industrial peace through arbitration is coming to be the rule where a few years ago it was the exception.

Poetry—Today

THERE IS A SANTA CLAUSE.

There is a Santa Claus, dear one; There is a Santa, with his fun. His fat old jolly sides that shake Just like a piece of jelly cake. There is a Santa Claus that glides Down every chimney, and besides Brings unto little folks like thee The toys and spangles on the tree.

There is a Santa Claus, my sweet, With great fur shoes upon his feet. And great fur collar on his coat, And sleigh bells jangling round his throat, And eyes that twinkle while they glance Like flames that in the fireplace dance; There is a Santa, don't you fear, Who comes with love for all, my dear.

There is a Santa—all year long He toils with whistle and with song In some far region far away To bring the little child of play The trinkets of his old workshop, The cats that meow, the frogs that hop, The dollies with the waxen face, The lovelight to the chimney place.

There is a Santa Claus; don't mind The doubt and bitter scorn you find; Put back the idea that they've lied Who all the passing years have tried To make you think there was, when you

Now half believe it wasn't true! It is true, true forever, dear, As long as love shall hover here! —Baltimore Sun.

Burns Has Rival For Honor

California Detective Says He Is Real Trapper of McNamaras.

Los Angeles, Dec. 15.—Samuel L. Browne, chief of the county's secret service bureau, served formal notice on the local office of the Burns agency that he will file claim for half or all the rewards offered for the arrest and conviction of the McNamaras and their accomplices in dynamiting of the Times building. Browne will waive those offered for the arrests only, which were made by Burns operators, but will assert that the case worked up under his direction was so complete that evidence Burns obtained was not needed. The rewards are estimated to total $67,000.

In Favor Of High License

Ohio Hotel Men Will Appear Before Constitutional Convention.

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—A resolution favoring high liquor license was adopted by the Ohio Hotel association, and a committee was appointed to represent the hotel men before the constitutional convention when the license clause comes before that body.

Frank G. Warden of Newark was elected president of the hotel men for the coming year; W. E. Deffenbacher of Canal Dover, vice president; W. E. Hawk of Blanchester, secretary; George B. Warner of Chillicothe, treasurer.

Claiming that tipping of hotel employees can not be stopped, the hotel men refused to mention the crusade which has been instituted by the United Commercial Travelers against the tipping evil.

Testimony Knocked Out

Senator Lorimer Must Show Cause For Its Admission.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Senator Lorimer's defense has received a temporary setback. Elbridge Haney, his counsel, had announced that he expected to prove that the corruption charges against the senator were inspired by owners and officials of the International Harvester company, because they believed Senator Lorimer had been connected with the legal fight in Chicago to increase the company's taxes. Chairman Dillingham ruled that this testimony be barred unless Haney could prove that harvester company officials knew that Lorimer was back of the tax suits.

Italian Who Killed Entire Family Evidently Demented.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15.—"Italian make sausage out of Americans." This note, scribbled in poor Italian, found on the piano in the farmhouse of Mrs. Mary Ann Morner, a rich widow, leads the police to believe that the killing of Mrs. Morner, her two daughters and son, was the work of a maniac. This theory is given additional weight by the fact that Mrs. Morner's purse, containing $100 in money and several checks, was lying in plain view.

The police of the country are searching for Edward Doulo, or Denig or Denis, the Italian farmhand employed by the Morner family, who has not been seen since Tuesday afternoon, when, at about 3:30 he went to a farmhouse located near the Morner farm and had his trousers, which were ripped from the knee down one leg, mended and several buttons sewed on his clothes.

MISS MINERVA and WILLIAM GREEN HILL

CHAPTER XIV.

Mr. Algernon Jones.

Again it was Monday, with the Ladies Aid Society in session. Jimmy was sitting on the grass in his own front yard, in full view of Sarah Jane, who was ironing clothes in her cabin with strict orders to keep him at home. Billy was in the swing in Miss Minerva's yard.

"Come on over," he invited.

"I can't," was the reply across the fence. "I'm so good now I 'bout got 'likin'; I reckon I'm going to be a 'nash'nary or a politician, one or 'other when I'm a grown-up man 'cause I'm so good; I ain't got but five whippings this week. I been good ever since I let you 'suade me to play Injun. I'm the goodest boy in this town, I 'spec'. Sometimes I get scared 'bout being so good 'cause I hear a woman say if you too good, you going to die or you ain't got no sense, once. You come on over here; you ain't trying to be good like what I'm trying, and Miss Minerva don't never do nothing a tall to you 'cepting put you to bed."

"I'd rather to git whipped fifty hundred times 'n to hafter go to bed in the daytime with Aunt Minerva look in' at you. An' her specs can see right th'oo you plumb to the bone. Naw, I can't come over there 'cause she made me promise not to. I ain't never go back on my word yit."

"I hope mama won't never ask me to promise her nothing a tall, 'cause I'm mighty curious 'bout forgetting. I 'spec' I'm the most forgettest little boy they is. But I'm so glad I'm so good. I ain't never going to be bad no more; so you might just as well quit begging me to come over and swing, you needn't ask me no more, 'tain't no use a tall."

"I ain't a-begging you," cried Billy contemptuously, "you can set on yo' mammy's grass where you is, an' be good from now tell Judgement Day an' 't won't make no change in my business."

"I ain't going to be 'ticed into no meanness, 'cause I'm so good," continued the reformed one, after a short silence during which he had seen Sarah Jane turn her back to him, "but I don't b'lieve it'll be no harm jus' to come over and set in the swing with you; maybe I can 'fluence you to be good like me and keep you from 'ticing little boys into mischief. I think I'll just come over and set a while and help you to be good," and he started to the fence. Sarah Jane turned around in time to frustrate his plans.

"You git right back, Jimmy," she yelled, "you git erway 'fom dat-ar fence an' quit confabbin' wid dat-ar Willyum. Fixin' to make some mo' Injuns out o' yo-selves, ain't yeh, or some yuther kin' o' skeercrows?"

Billy strolled to the other side of the big yard and climbed up and got on the tall gate post. A stranger, coming from the opposite direction, stopped and spoke to him.

"Does Mr. John Smith live here?" he asked.

"Naw, sir," was the reply; "don't no Mr. 'tall live hepe; jest me an' Aunt Minerva, an' she turns up her nose at anything that wears pants."

"And where could I find your Aunt Minerva?" the stranger's grin was ingratiating and agreeable.

"Why, this here's Monday," the little boy exclaimed, "Of course she's at the Aid; all the 'omans roun' here goes to the Aid on Monday."

"Your aunt is an old friend of mine," went on the man, "and I knew she was at the Aid. I just wanted to find out if you'd tell the truth about her. Some little boys tell stories, but I am glad to find out you are so truthful. My name is Mr. Algernon Jones and I'm glad to know you. Shake! Put it there, partner," and the fascinating stranger held out a grimy paw.

Billy smiled down from his perch at him and thought he had never met such a pleasant man. If he was such an old friend of his aunt's maybe she would not object to him because he wore pants, he thought. Maybe she might be persuaded to take Mr. Jones for a husband. Billy almost hoped that she would hurry home from the Aid, he wanted to see the two together so.

"Is you much of a cusser?" he asked solemnly, "'cause if you is you'll hafter cut it out on these premises."

Mr. Jones seemed much surprised and hurt at the question.

"An oath never passed these lips," replied the truthful gentleman.

"Can you churn?"

"Churn—churn?" with a reminiscent smile, "I can churn like a top."

Jimmy was dying of curiosity, but the gate was too far away for him to do more than catch a word now and then. It was also out of Sarah Jane's visual line, so she knew nothing of the stranger's advent.

"And you're here all by yourself?" inquired Billy's new friend. "And the folks next door, where are they?"

"Mrs. Garner's at the Aid, an' Mr. Garner's gone to Memphis. That is they little boy a-settin' in they yard on they grass," answered the child.

"I've come to fix your Aunt Minerva's water pipe," said the truth-loving Mr. Jones. "Come, show me the way; I'm the plumber."

"In the bath room?" asked the child. "I didn't know it needed no fixin'."

He led the agreeable plumber through the hall, down the long back porch to the bath room, remarking:

"I'll jes' watch you work." And he seated himself in the only chair.

Here is where Billy received one of the greatest surprises of his life. The fascinating stranger grabbed him with a rough hand and hissed:

"Don't you dare open your mouth or I'll crack your head open and scatter your brains. I'll eat you alive."

The fierce, bloodshot eyes, which had seemed so laughing and merry before, now glared into those of the little boy as the man took a stout cord from his pocket, bound Billy to the chair and gagged him with a large bath towel. Energetic Mr. Jones took the key out of the door, shook his fist at the child, and went out, and locked the door behind him.

Jimmy seeing no hope of eluding Sarah Jane's vigilance, resorted to strategy and deceit.

"Tain't no fun settin' out here," he called to her, "so I'm going in the house and take a nap."

She willingly consented, as she was through with her ironing and thought to snatch a few winks of sleep herself.

The little boy slipped quietly through the house, noiselessly across the back yard and into his father's big garden, which was separated from that of his neighbor by a high board fence.

He quickly climbed the fence, flew across Miss Minerva's tomato patch and tiptoed up her back steps to the back porch, his little bare feet giving no sign of his presence. Hearing curious noises coming from the bath room, where Billy was bumping the chair up and down in his efforts to release his mouth, he made for that spot, promptly unlocked the door and walked in. Billy by scuffling and tugging had freed his mouth from the towel that bound it at that moment.

"Hush!" he whispered as Jimmy opened the door, "you'll get eat up alive if you don't look out." His tone was so mysterious and thrilling and he looked so scared tied to the chair that the younger boy's blood almost froze in his veins.

"What you doing all tied up so?" he asked, in low, frightened tones.

"Mr. Algernon Jones done it. I 'spec' he's a robber an' is jes' a-robbin' right now," answered Billy.

"I'll untie you," said his chum.

Charges False Shannon Innocent

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. of Clinton county have branded as false the charges against Prof. Shannon, who is alleged to have filled his pockets with auger bits while being shown through the Irwin Bit Works in Wilmington last week.

It will be remembered that a statement carried in the Greene Co. Journal reflected upon Professor Shannon. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. have caused the following to be published in the Wilmington papers: "There is a current rumor that Prof. Shannon, who recently lectured here on Soil Purity, was intercepted by the Superintendent of the Irwin Auger Bit Works in the act of carrying away a number of bits. The report, which has been given credit by the public, was that he was forced to give back to the superintendent bits which represented the various courses of manufacture through the factory.

"The report is erroneous. Prof. Shannon was escorted through the factory by a guide who pointed out the details of the work to him. Mr. Shannon asked if he would be allowed to take samples to use in illustrating his lectures. The guide gave him bits in the different process of construction. Some of the employees observed that Shannon was pocketing augers and called the attention of the superintendent to the matter. In the presence of the guide the superintendent asked Shannon if it were true. The guide explained, and because the rules the factory forbade his taking them, Mr. Shannon gave back the bits.

"Thus there seems to be nothing at all in the rumor that the credulous public has seized upon. Mr. Shannon did what any other man might have done. His work here was of a high order and those under whose auspices he lectured do not want to see his labors go for naught because of false rumors."

WEAR WOOD SHOES

Forest Footwear Popular in an Indiana Town.

Hoosier German Settlement in Which a Wooden Shoe Factory Has Been Conducted for More Than Forty Years.

Huntingburgh, Ind.—In the town of Ferdinand, this county, many of the older generation of Germans wear wooden shoes. Clemens Luecken of Ferdinand is a master carver of wooden shoes and his tiny shop is the mecca for Germans in quest of forest footwear. Dubois county is overwhelmingly German and many of the customs of "der vaterland" are observed with as much fervor as though Dubois county were actually ruled by the kaiser. One of the customs in vogue at Ferdinand is the wearing of wooden shoes and for more than forty years Clemens Luecken has conducted a wooden shoe factory in the little town.

Not for one moment in all that time has Clemens Luecken allowed the leather trust to worry him. The soaring price of shoe leather has no terrors for Mr. Luecken. As long as birch and poplar timber can be secured "Der Holzschuhmacher" will never care a rap whether Uncle Sam corners the leather trust or the leather trust corners Uncle Sam. Leather is an unknown quantity with Mr. Luecken. He specializes in the manufacture of wooden shoes and the fact that he has been engaged in the business for more than forty years is proof enough that the demand for wooden shoes is pretty steady and that Clemens Luecken delivers the goods.

The shop wherein Mr. Luecken has worked at his trade for so many years is situated on a hill overlooking the little town of Ferdinand. The building is a low frame structure 12 feet square and occupies a site in the corner of the garden adjoining his home. The little building is well supplied with light there being three windows, a door and a skylight.

The floor of the shop is covered with wood chips. Tools such as are used by a skilled wood carver hang in orderly fashion about the walls. In one corner of the room stands a very small stove. His work bench in another corner consists of a six-foot log some 10 or 12 inches in diameter resting on four sticks of wood. In the center of this rudely constructed work bench is a groove. One cannot but admire the skill of the old German when he first shapes a block of wood to conform to the foot. He holds the block of shoe wood on a large oak block and wields a keen edged hatchet with a degree of accuracy that is amazing. Wood chips fly in all directions with each stroke of the hatchet. Gradually the block of wood assumes the form of a shoe. The block is then placed in the groove and an auger-like tool is used in boring out the interior of the shoe. The boring process continues until the interior is rounded out to conform to the shape of the foot. After the interior and exterior of the shoe are smoothed out it is ready for the wearer.

The shoes are made according to the length and breadth of the foot as computed by inches. The host of patrons whom Luecken supplies with wooden shoes every year includes men, women and children. In price the shoes range from 45 to 65 cents. Shoes made of birch come higher because they last longer than those made of poplar and other wood. Luecken can turn out several pairs a day. In addition to supplying the regular channel of trade he sells hundreds of wooden shoes to visitors who buy them as souvenirs. Luecken says that the young American has never formed the habit of wearing wooden shoes—the young American prefers tight fitting shoes made of leather and the painful corns that go with them. The feet of those who wear wooden shoes are never deformed by corns, bunions, etc. If Luecken does not have your size shoe in stock and you are in a hurry he sends you to one of the general stores in Ferdinand, where you can make your selection from a large stock. He supplies the merchants with their stock of wooden shoes. It is a very common sight in Ferdinand to see a patron of Mr. Luecken drive into town wearing a pair of wooden shoes. They come from 1 parts of Dubois county.

AN INTELLIGENT ELEPHANT

Incident Which Helps to Solve the Much Discussed Problem, "Do Animals Think?"

London.—Recently an Indian elephant has covered considerable territory toward the solution of the much discussed problem, "Do animals think?" Ordered to drag a tree, which proved too heavy, urged and excited to continue her efforts, the chais by which the beast was fastened finally broke and she made a dash for the jungle.

It was supposed she would mix with the wild elephants and be seen no more, but in an hour back she came bringing with her two other elephants, and by their united strength the tree was easily moved. After the job was finished the two strange animals disappeared, but the one faithfully remained to go forward with her higher education.

State Rests In Murder Case

After a large number of witnesses had been examined within a very short time, and one after another gave damaging evidence against the defendant, Charles Gilsdorf, the state exhausted its number of witnesses and rested Thursday.

During his opening remarks in the case Prosecutor Boulger broke down and wept. His remarks were very impressive. Attorney for the defendant, Blosser, is fighting every inch of the ground, sometimes incurring the disgust of the spectators.

A lively tilt between Judge Goldsberry and Attorney Blosser occurred Thursday.

It is believed that the defense will have all of the testimony introduced by this evening.

RENGO BELT CORSETS

make the most beautiful figure and do it with such comfort that they are a revelation to every woman who wears them for the first time.

Improper fitting of corsets, no matter how perfectly they are made, will produce a stiff and anything but graceful appearance, also a world of discomfort.

The new Rengo Belt Corsets are perfection as regards fit. Be sure to select a size not too small—and when you have the right size, the figure lines will be absolutely perfect whether you are stout or medium. Rengo Belt Corsets are designed for perfect form producers. The larger sizes are just as perfect as the smaller—the proportions throughout are beautiful.

It is because you do not need to select a tight, pinching size of these corsets in order to make a trim, neat figure that all women who wear them declare they are "a revelation of perfect lines and comfort." Many women actually believe that these two most desirable corset features cannot be combined in one garment.

To all such women we say—select a Rengo Belt Corset of comfortable size and you will be surprised at the slender appearance, grace and freedom of movement which will add charm to the superb lines of your figure.

COFFEE is your send-off for the day. It gives you the right start to have a cup of coffee that tastes good to you.

The only high-grade choice coffee that is put up in different Blends to suit the different Coffee Tastes is Golden Sun Coffee. Put up by the oldest coffee house in the business, in pound packets, hermetically sealed at the critical moment after roasting to preserve for your cup all the rich, natural oil-foam of the coffee berry. Here are the five different blends: Karez is keen, tangy and sparkling. Navarre is a piquant, high-flavored coffee. Briardale produces a soft, mellow, velvety cup. Vienna is rich, savory and aromatic in flavor and bouquet. Mocha & Java gives that distinct brew produced only by the most expert blending of those two well known grades.

Another Murder In Circleville

Another murder occurred in Circleville some time during Thursday night, when John Carr, night-watchman at the Sears & Nichols Company's plant was shot down and found dead Friday morning. His murderer escaped. Two chambers of the murdered man's revolver were empty, and it is believed that he wounded his assassin. The police have a clew which they are working upon. Limited details of the crime were communicated to the police here, with admonition to keep a sharp lookout for suspicious characters wearing a No. 7 shoe.

Federal Building Prospects

ARE BRIGHT FOR WASHINGTON

Congressman Post Introduces Bill to Abolish Pension Agencies and Provide Payment.

Information from Washington D. C. indicates that there is a bright prospect for a government building being in this city as a result of the bill introduced by Congressman J. D. Post some time ago. The recent action of Congress is very favorable toward the new government building for Washington, and in the reports sent out from the nation's capitol this city is one of the first mentioned among a number of Ohio cities, and consequently if any buildings are decided upon, the one for Washington will be one of them. There is every assurance to this effect.

Since the introduction of Mr. Post's bill for a $100,000 Federal building for Washington, the bill has been favorably considered until it is believed that only a matter of a few months' time will elapse until the necessary appropriation for the structure will be made.

Mr. Post has just introduced a bill to abolish certain pension agencies and to provide for the payment of pensions. This bill was referred to the Committee on Invalid Pensions and ordered printed.

The bill carries with it a proviso for $50,000 with which to carry out the changes recommended in the bill which are to abolish some 17 pension agencies scattered throughout the United States, and pay all pensioners direct from one office located at Washington. This would be the means of a large annual saving to the government.

Big Work is Planned

The greatest piece of work ever attempted in Central Ohio in the way of straightening and deepening the channel of a stream in order to obtain relief from overflow and reclaim a large tract of fertile land which is now practically worthless, is under contemplation by three large land owners in the Rattlesnake creek valley, seven miles west of this city in the neighborhood of the Wilmington pipe crossing.

The proposition is still little more than a dream, but within the next few days, or weeks the feasibility of the plan will be settled and the gigantic undertaking may be commenced within a short time, and by next fall several miles of the stream be straightened and deepened, making a channel which will afford a ready means of drainage, and reclaim the large "flood plain" of the big creek. For several miles the channel is none too well defined, being crooked and irregular with little depth.

Those at the head of the undertaking are said to be Willard A. Storey, G. L. Armstrong and Mr. Cramer, all residents of Chillicothe or Ross Co., and who own nearly fifteen hundred acres of land in the Rattlesnake valley, and whose loss each year by overflowing of the stream is a heavy one.

The plan of these gentlemen is to ascertain the practicability of the proposed work, and if it is pronounced feasible, interest other land owners in the movement for relief from floods, and eventually open up the channel in such manner that it will place the water level several feet lower than at present, and end for all time the damage by overflowing, and also reclaim the large tract of rich swamp lands bordering the stream.

The extent of the improvement is still a matter of mere conjecture, but it may ultimately result in the deepening and straightening of miles of the stream at a cost of tens of thousands of dollars, which would be paid by those benefited by the improvement.

If the proposition proves practical, a steam dredge would probably be used to do the work, and several months required in accomplishing the huge undertaking.

Something more definite will probably come to light within a short time. Meanwhile the project will be watched with great interest.

CYCLIST RISKS LIFE.

New York—Jim Zanora, one of the best known trick bicycle riders in the United States, risks his life at every public appearance and knows how necessary it is for him to have a steady nerve and unflinching strength.

The slightest weakness might cost him his life, or injure him severely, and this letter from him is of great interest on that account. He says:

"I do trick bicycle riding as a professional and work hard, and so I was always tired and weak. I got so I had no strength and felt all run down, but since using three bottles of Vinol I feel fine again. I have recommended Vinol to others and they too are using it with good results."

Your strength is just as valuable to you, and we want to say to you that there is nothing so good as Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, for making weak and wornout people robust, rugged and well. It is good for children and old people too, and we give your money back unless Vinol does all we claim. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Secret Session Divorce Trial

A great deal of interest attaches to the William S. Beatty vs. Emma Beatty divorce case which is in progress before Judge Patton Friday. The parties to the suit are from the Jeffersonville neighborhood and quite a number of witnesses have been subpoenaed in the case. Developments of a more or less sensational character were expected in the case, and owing to the nature of the testimony spectators have been excluded and the trial made as private as possible. Frank A. Chaffin and Nye Gregg are attorneys for the plaintiff and H. H. Sanderson for the defendant.

The approach of the holiday season gives special importance to the fine lines of domestic and imported perfumes we carry and also to our stock of sundries, such as hair brushes, cloth brushes, military brushes, manicure goods, etc. These sensible, useful, goods grow in demand each year and we provide for the demand by increasing for the holiday season a stock which at any season is the largest in this locality.

Dr. C. C. Hazard Delivers Address

The State Osteopathic Convention held at Columbus this week passed off very successfully, with between a hundred and a hundred and fifty delegates in attendance. Fine papers delivered by notable osteopaths and a genuine interest in advanced osteopathic science.

The state convention was the largest that has ever been held and shows a gratifying growth over the one of last year.

Dr. C. C. Hazard, of this city, was one of the speakers and made a notable demonstration on "Little's Diseases," showing the diagnosis and treatment of forms of infantile weakness and paralysis. Dr. Hazard has met with phenomenal success along these lines in his own practice.

Dr. Conkling, of Battle Creek, Mich., gave one of the finest demonstrations of the convention, explaining 3500 cases of collapsed and dilated stomachs as shown under the clinical report by way of X Ray examination.

Practically all these cases have been cured by means of the X Ray disclosures and scientific osteopathic treatment.

Dr. C. H. Bowen, of Grant hospital, Columbus, followed with a second demonstration along similar lines and also showed the result of tuberculosis by X Ray treatment, something new in X Radiology. The demonstration of tuberculosis by the X Ray machine was one of the vitally interesting things of the convention.

An able demonstration was given by Dr. Fryotte, of Chicago, of different movements and articulation by means of a prepared skeleton, and Dr. Prescott, of Loraine, presented an excellent paper on "Exophthalmic Goitre," presenting new methods of treatment.

An elegant banquet was served at the Chittenden Hotel Wednesday night. Dr. and Mrs. Hazard and Dr. Flo. Rankin Dunnington, represented the Osteopathic school from this city.

HEADACHE!—IT'S YOUR LIVER

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic Is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel. They do all of calomel's work without any of its bad after effects.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, gripping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Dame Nature Plays Prank on Baby Born in Toronto.

Toronto, Dec. 15.—An unprecedented freak of nature is under observation at the Children's hospital here. It is a baby girl that, just born, lies in a cot with its heart beating like an ordinary child, but with this difference, that the heart is outside the thorax instead of inside. There is neither skin nor bone to protect the vital organ which is hanging out on the chest wall. The doctors can see the blood rush into the chamber and watch them fill up when the heart contracts, and the blood is seen forced into the arteries to be distributed through the body.

Even women who lack the sense of humor want to be jolled all the time.

John Cowan in One Church
That Long.

Half a Century Ago a Young Man
Came to a Missouri Community
and Has Been Pastor There
Ever Since.

Fulton, Mo.—Fifty years the pastor
of one church. That is the record of
Rev. Dr. John Fleming Cowan. Recently the people in northeast Cal-away county entered upon a two-days'
celebration in his honor.

For half a century Doctor Cowan has served the Old Auxvasse Presbyterian
church as pastor. For two score
years and ten he has presided as spiritual adviser and servant of a church
that is in a sense the mother church
of many of those now in existence in
this section.

Doctor Cowan came to the Old Aux-
vasse church as a young man of twenty-four. The country was rent with strife and the lines were sharply
drawn. He was a man of southern beliefs and his people were of the same
mind. He fitted into the post and he has fitted there ever since.

Auxvasse church is so-called because
it stands on a high elevation in a big
bend of the Auxvasse river, a stream
that derived its name from the French. It is on the highway between Williamsburg and McCredie, two villages in the northeast part of Callaway
county. The church was organized
June 30, 1828, by pioneers from Kentucky and Virginia. Three buildings
have served as meeting places for the congregation since that time. All of them have been modest structures.
The present church is a frame building and is extremely simple.

Doctor Cowan has been satisfied to
labor among these industrious, honest
and worthy people. His congregation
has been satisfied to listen to the
plain, yet convincing sermons of the man who has served them from early

THE OLD AUXVASSE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

youth until the declining years of his life. Nowhere in this section is a community of better people and no-
where is there a man of the cloth
who has followed nearer in the footsteps of the man whose teachings he
has endeavored to emulate than Doctor Cowan. Idealism has been demonstrated in its fullest sense.

When the preachers of the pioneer
days came to serve the congregation
at Old Auxvasse they found a church
built of logs. In 1840 a church of brick was erected. Then in 1870 came
the building that is still serving as
the home of worship.

Doctor Cowan was born at Potosi,
Mo., March 8, 1837. Much of his early education was gained through his father, Rev. John F. Cowan, one of the early Presbyterian ministers of the state. He graduated from Westminster college in 1858 and then took a
theological course at Princeton Seminary, completing his work there in 1861.

Rev. Mr. Cowan lived in the country near the church until his wife died
and his daughter married. His wife
was Miss Jane Grant, a native of Cal-
away county. In 1888 Mr. Cowan
moved to Fulton, where he is teaching
modern languages in Westminster college. These new duties did not lessen
his love for the pastoral work of the Old Auxvasse church and he continued in the pastorate.

He has preached to the congregation
of the Old Auxvasse church 2,500
times. In other churches during revival meetings and occasional visits he has preached 1,300 times. He has conducted fifty revival meetings in various churches.

To the Auxvasse church during the fifty years of his pastorate 535 members have been added, 300 children have been baptized and 240 couples have been married. One hundred and thirty-seven members of the congregation have died during that period and Doctor Cowan has conducted their fu-erals. Of this number 65 were men and 72 women.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Boys Spike Rails to Track.
Medina, O., Dec. 15.—Accused of
carrying out two plots to wreck a Cleveland & Southwestern traction
line limited two miles north of Medina, Earl Kreger, 13, and Earl Sherman, 17, are under arrest. Fence rails
were laid on the track on a sharp
curve and held in place by spikes
driven into the ties. E. I. Hills, a farmer near the curve, discovered the obstruction and removed it. Two days later another obstruction was found on the track. The place was watched, with the result that young
Kreger, the son of a farmer, and
Sherman, who lives with an uncle,
were arrested.

Girl's Slayer Pleads Guilty.
Newark, O., Dec. 15.—Don More-
land, farmhand, indicted for first degree murder for the killing of Elsie Henthorne, 12-year-old school girl, on
a lonely road near Pataskalia, last March, pleaded guilty to manslaughter
before Judge Nicholas of Coshocton here, shortly after the work of securing a jury had been started.
Moreland will be sentenced next
Thursday. The penalty is from one
to 20 years in the pen.

Sues Game Warden.
Chardon, O., Dec. 15.—Game laws
of Ohio probably will be given a thorough test in the Geauga county
courts as the result of a suit for $10,000 damages filed by John Tell of Cleveland against Alfred
Rhodes, game warden of Geauga
county. Rhodes arrested Tell in Russell township Oct. 20, on the charge of killing a rabbit out of season.

Prepare For Sunday Revival.
Canton, O., Dec. 15.—Rev. J. A.
Grimm, 72, and Rev. L. M. Boyer, 70,
two white-haired Canton pastors,
joined 30 other ministers and church
men in the erection of a huge tabernacle which is to be used by Rev.
Billy Sunday when he opens a six
weeks' campaign here Dec. 31.

Carries His Own District.
Bridgeport, O., Dec. 15.—Early returns from the miners' unions in this district on the vote for election of
president of the United Mine Workers of America indicate Thomas L.
Lewis will carry this district, at
least, by an overwhelming majority.

Train Kills Farmer.
Marion, O., Dec. 15.—Samuel Allen, 60, wealthy farmer, living three
miles south of Larue, was hit and instantly killed by train at Larue
street crossing.

"BEST ON EARTH"
This is the verdict of R. J. Howell,
Tracey, O., who bought Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for his wife.
"Her case was the worst I have ever
seen, and looked like a sure case of consumption. Her lungs were sore
and she coughed almost incessantly
and her voice was hoarse and weak.
Foley's Honey and Tar Compound
brought relief at once and less than
three bottles effected a complete
cure." Without opiates or harmful
drugs of any kind Foley's Honey and Tar Compound stops coughs and cures colds. Do not accept any substitute. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Where a man with a bank account
is imposed upon by a crook, who obtains from him a check, the maker
of the check cannot have recourse
against the bank which cashed the
same. This is the unanimous opinion of the Ohio Supreme court, Chief Justice W. T. Spear, delivering the same.

James McHenry, of Zanesville,
was introduced by a resident of that
city to a stranger giving the name
of George Thresh, of Otsego, procuring a loan of $2,580 on a farm which he professed to own. Examining
the title, and without taking any
means of identifying the stranger,
McHenry loaned him the money,
drawing a check on the Old Citizens'
bank, of Zanesville.

It turned out soon after the check
was cashed that the stranger was an impostor. McHenry sued the bank
for the value of the check, but the
inferior courts refused him a verdict.

Xenia Taxes Drop Nearly $50,000

Xenia taxpayers have nearly $50,000 less taxes this year than last, and whether the city will have enough to meet its expenses is a question which has not been decided, although the taxpayers are of the opinion that the one per cent. tax law is a money saver.

In 1910 the tax duplicate for Xenia was $4,011,741 upon which the taxpayers of Xenia paid $168,493.26, exclusive of all special assessments, such as sewer and street paving. The tax duplicate for 1911 is $7,955,853 an increase of almost four millions of dollars over the duplicate of 1910. On the 1911 duplicate, the taxpayers, under a rate of 1.50, will pay $119,337.88, exclusive of assessments for sewer, street paving, etc. This is a saving of $49,155.38 for the taxpayers of the city.

In round numbers the State fund is short $2,000; the county $8,000; the township $2,000; the schools, $12,000 and the city, $26,000. In regard to the shortage of $26,000 in the city fund an explanation is necessary. This shortage was due largely to the fact that the Sinking Fund cut its levy almost in half. In 1910 the Sinking Fund Board levied 10 mills, thus deriving about $40,000 in taxes. 1911 this Board levied only 3 1-2 mills, thus deriving on the new duplicate about $28,000.

The entire duplicate for Greene county will amount to more than $40,000,000 as compared with the 1910 duplicate of $19,128,845.

THE SALARY ORDINANCE.

While frankly admitting that the financial reward given faithful officials in cities of the size of Washington is wholly inadequate to compensate them for the services demanded of them in the discharge of their official duties, the great majority of thinking people of Washington are inclined to agree with many of the statements of the Mayor given in his reasons for vetoing the salary ordinance.

While there is no general disposition to question the justness of action to increasing the salary of faithful and capable public officials, it would seem that "Do it now" is not applicable under present conditions.

Matters financial in public affairs are in more or less of a chaotic condition in every municipality in the state and until the new and revolutionary tax laws have been thoroughly tried out and conditions have adjusted themselves to the workings of that law, the amount which can be derived in the way of public revenue is in a large measure speculative with indications that economy along all lines of expenditure must be practiced.

It is to be hoped that conditions in the next year or two will present a brighter prospect, either by actual proof of the wisdom of the new tax law or by its repeal, but until that time comes unnecessary expenditures must be barred if a condition of municipal solvency is to be sustained.

A healthy condition of the city's finances and a nicely adjusted and smoothly working system of receipts and expenditures which will insure an ability to take care of necessary fixed and incidental charges as they arise, and with a prospect of being able to pay for needed improvements as conditions come about demanding them, is more to be desired than a corp of high salaried officers.

Home loving and city loving officials must and do agree with that view. The existence of true civic pride is a wholesome condition of affairs in any community and means more in the way of progress along all lines than any other one thing but true civic pride cannot exist with an empty treasury.

The first step to municipal progress is to get our own "house in order" and those charged with the grave responsibility of administering public affairs cannot afford to allow themselves to be deluded into the belief that this work can be accomplished by beginning at the wrong end.

We should in times like these be mindful of the fact that for a century, Washington councilmen received no salary at all.

Needs of the Nation

Capital and Labor Unity

By Governor JOHN A. DIX, of New York

THE INDUSTRIAL STRIKE WAS ONCE THE ACCEPTED MEANS OF SETTling DISPUTES BETWEEN LABOR AND CAPITAL BUT TODAY IT IS SUPERSEDED BY THE ARBITRAL TRIBUNAL.

THE WORLD NEEDS INDUSTRIAL PEACE, PEACE FOUNDED ON JUSTICE, RIGHT AND HUMAN BROTHERHOOD. THE WORLD NEEDS ECONOMIC PEACE. THE WORLD NEEDS A CESSATION OF DEMAGOGIC ATTACKS AND APPEALS TO CLASS PREJUDICE.

This nation of ours can maintain its commanding position as a pioneer in the ENDURING PROGRESS AND CIVILIZATION of mankind only in the measure that there is participation in public affairs, in civic control and in municipal, state and national government by PATRIOTIC AND UNSELFISH MEN OF BUSINESS in every state in the Union.

The time has come for WORDS OF PEACE AND JUSTICE. Economic and political evils have existed and do exist. They exist in every country in the world.

REFORM IS NEEDED IN MANY DIRECTIONS. YET IT REMAINS ABSOLUTELY TRUE THAT THIS NATION OF OURS IS SOUND IN EVERY FIBER, IS STILL THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY AND THAT IN BUSINESS AND FINANCE ITS LEADERS AND PROMINENT FIGURES ARE UNSURPASSED IN THE WORLD FOR HIGH AIMS, PERSONAL HONESTY, CLEAN CONDUCT AND FIDELITY TO IDEALS.

The relations of "capital to labor"—it is a well worn phrase, yet capital and labor are, if not synonymous, at least interblending terms, for the capitalist is a toiler, even if only with his brain, and the laborer is a capitalist, even if his sole capital be that of brawn. EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYED ARE COMING TO A BETTER UNDERSTANDING. Industrial peace through arbitration is coming to be the rule where a few years ago it was the exception.

THERE IS A SANTA CLAUS

There is a Santa Claus, dear one; There is a Santa, with his fun. His fat old jolly sides that shake Just like a piece of jelly cake.

There is a Santa Claus that glides Down every chimney, and besides Brings unto little folks like thee the toys and spangles on the tree.

There is a Santa Claus, my sweet, With great fur shoes upon his feet. And great fur collar on his coat, And sleigh bells jangling round his throat, And eyes that twinkle while they glance Like flames that in the fireplace dance;

There is a Santa, don't you fear, Who comes with love for all, my dear.

There is a Santa—all year long He toils with whistle and with song In some far region far away To bring the little child of play The trinkets of his old workshop, The cats that meow, the frogs that hop.

The dollies with the waxen face, The lovelight to the chimney place.

There is a Santa Claus; don't mind The doubt and bitter scorn you find; Put back the idea that they've fled Who all the passing years have tried To make you think there was, when you Now half believe it wasn't true! It is true, true forever, dear, As long as love shall hover here! —Baltimore Sun.

The rewards are estimated to total $67,000.

In Favor Of High License

Ohio Hotel Men Will Appear Before Constitutional Convention.
Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—A resolution favoring high liquor license was adopted by the Ohio Hotel association, and a committee was appointed to represent the hotel men before the constitutional convention when the license clause comes before that body.

Frank G. Warden of Newark was elected president of the hotel men for the coming year; W. E. Deffenbacher of Canal Dover, vice president; W. E. Hawk of Blanchester, secretary; George B. Warner of Chillicothe, treasurer.

Claiming that tipping of hotel employees can not be stopped, the hotel men refused to mention the crusade which has been instituted by the United Commercial Travelers against the tipping evil.

Testimony Knocked Out

Senator Lorimer Must Show Cause For Its Admission.
Washington, Dec. 15.—Senator Lorimer's defense has received a temporary setback. Elbridge Haney, his counsel, had announced that he expected to prove that the corruption charges against the senator were inspired by owners and officials of the International Harvester company, because they believed Senator Lorimer had been connected with the legal fight in Chicago to increase the company's taxes. Chairman Dillingham ruled that this testimony be barred unless Haney could prove that harvester company officials knew that Lorimer was back of the tax suits.

Italian Who Killed Entire Family Evidently Demented.
Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15.—"Italian make sausage out of Americans." This note, scribbled in poor Italian, found on the piano in the farmhouse of Mrs. Mary Ann Morner, a rich widow, leads the police to believe that the killing of Mrs. Morner, her two daughters and son, was the work of a maniac. This theory is given additional weight by the fact that Mrs. Morner's purse, containing $100 in money and several checks, was lying in plain view.

The police of the country are searching for Edward Doulo, or Denig or Denis, the Italian farmhand employed by the Morner family, who has not been seen since Tuesday afternoon, when, at about 3:30 he went to a farmhouse located near the Morner farm and had his trousers, which were ripped from the knee down one leg, mended and several buttons sewed on his clothes.

Stove Factory Closes Down

Manager Asserts That the Closing Now is to Invoice.

The foundry department of the Wonder Manufacturing Co., better known as the Stove Factory, closed down Thursday night. Manager R. C. Kyle announces that it will be closed for a week or ten days, or probably longer while the invoice is being made.

The entire factory will be closed down this evening for ten days, and business may not be resumed until after the first of the year.

The closing down of the factory will throw some fifty people out of employment until it reopens, unless they secure temporary work elsewhere.

For the past two or three weeks the force of employees has been gradually cut down from upward of 70.

Man is Arrested For Non-support

Ober Womacks, 23, whose home is at West Union, Adams county, was arrested in Jeffersonville, for non-support of a minor child, Thursday evening.

Deputy Sheriff Nelson made the arrest, having been notified by the Sheriff of Adams county, J. D. Williams, that the man was wanted and to arrest him.

Womacks, who is of fair appearance, was visiting his brother, a barber in Jeffersonville, and willingly accompanied Sheriff Nelson to the county jail where he was confined until the Sheriff of Adams county could arrive and take him back to face the charge against him.

The man came to this county last August, and since his arrival here has lost the sight of one eye and taking treatment for the other, which is affected in much the same manner as the one he lost.

A charming card party given by Mrs. Robert Howat Thursday afternoon brought together young matrons and girls for six tables of 500, in honor of one of the November brides, Mrs. Gerrie Spragg.

The beautiful home, with its bright decorations of scarlet carnations and greenery, presented a cheery contrast to the dreary winter rain outside and the guests found the afternoon one of exceptional pleasure.

Mrs. Albert Glascock scored high progresses and presented the prize, a sweet gram sewing basket, to Mrs. Spragg.

An elaborate luncheon followed the game.

Mrs. Fred McLean, of Chicago, Ill., was an out-of-town guest.

The Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club has resumed its weekly meetings one more table of players being added to the club.

CHAPTER XIV.

Mr. Algernon Jones. Again it was Monday, with the Ladies Aid Society in session. Jimmy was sitting on the grass in his own back yard, in full view of Sarah Jane, who was ironing clothes in her cabin with strict orders to keep him at home. Billy was in the swing in Miss Minerva's yard.

"Come on over," he invited.

"I can't," was the reply across the fence. "I'm so good now I 'bout got religion; I reckon I'm going to be a fish'nary or a politician, one or t'other when I'm a grown-up man 'cause I'm so good; I ain't got but five whippings this week, but been good ever since I let you 'sua'de me to play injun. I'm a goodest boy in this town, I spec'. Sometimes I get scared 'bout being a good 'cause I hear a woman say if you too good, you going to die or you ain't got no sense, once. You come on over here; you ain't trying to be good like what I'm trying, and Miss Minerva don't never do nothing a tall to you 'cepting put you to bed."

"I'd ruther to git whipped fifty hundred times 'n to hafter go to bed in the daytime with Aunt Minerva lookin' at you. An' her specs can see right th'oo you plumb to the bone. Naw, I can't come over there 'cause she made me promise not to. I ain't never go back on my word yit."

"I hope mama won't never ask me to promise her nothing a tall, 'cause I'm mighty curious 'bout forgetting. I spec' I'm the most forgettigest little boy they is. But I'm so glad I'm so good. I ain't never going to be bad no more; so you might just as well quit begging me to come over and swing, you needn't ask me no more, 'tain't no use a tall."

"I ain't a-begging you," cried Billy contemptuously. "you can set on yo' mammy's grass where you is, an' be good from now till Judgement Day an' I won't make no change in my business."

"I ain't going to be 'ficed into no meanness, 'cause I'm so good," continued the reformed one, after a short silence during which he had seen Sarah Jane turn her back to him, "but I don't b'lieve it'll be no harm jus' to come over and set in the swing with you; maybe I can 'fluence you to be good like me and keep you from 'ficing little boys into mischief. I think I'll just come over and set a while and help you to be good," and he started to the fence. Sarah Jane turned around in time to frustrate his plans.

"You git right back, Jimmy," she yelled, "you git erway 'fom dat-ar fence an' quit confabbin' wid dat-ar Willium. Fixin' to make some mo' injuns out o' yo-selfs, ain't yeh, or some yuther kin' o' skeercrows?"

Billy strolled to the other side of the big yard and climbed up and got on the tall gate post. A stranger, coming from the opposite direction, stopped and spoke to him.

"Does Mr. John Smith live here?" he asked.

"Naw, sir," was the reply; "don't no Mr. 'tall live here; jest me an' Aunt Minerva, an' she turns up her nose at anything that wears pants."

"And where could I find your Aunt Minerva?" the stranger's grin was ingratiating and agreeable.

"Why, this here's Monday," the little boy exclaimed. "Of course she's at the Aid; all the 'omans roun' here goes to the Aid on Monday."

"Your aunt is an old friend of mine," went on the man, "and I knew she was at the Aid. I just wanted to find out if you'd tell the truth about her. Some little boys tell stories, but I am glad to find out you are so truthful. My name is Mr. Algernon Jones and I'm glad to know you. Shake! Put it there, partner," and the fascinating stranger held out a grimy paw.

Billy smiled down from his perch at him and thought he had never met such a pleasant man. If he was such an old friend of his aunt's maybe she would not object to him because she were pants, he thought. Maybe she might be persuaded to take Mr. Jones for a husband. Billy almost hoped that she would hurry home from the Aid, he wanted to see the two together so.

"Is you much of a cusser?" he asked solemnly. "'cause if you is you'll hafter cut it out on these premises."

Mr. Jones seemed much surprised and hurt at the question.

"An oath never passed these lips," replied the truthful gentleman.

"Can you churn?"

"Churn—churn?" with a reminiscent smile, "I can churn like a top."

Jimmy was dying of curiosity, but the gate was too far away for him to do more than catch a word now and then. It was also out of Sarah Jane's visual line, so she knew nothing of the stranger's advent.

"And you're here all by yourself, insinuated Billy's new friend. "And the folks next door, where are they?"

"Mrs. Garner's at the Aid, an' Mr. Garner's gone to Memphis. That is they little boy a-settin' in they yard on they grass," answered the child.

"I've come to fix your Aunt Minerva's water pipe," said the truth-loving Mr. Jones. "Come, show me the way; I'm the plumber."

"In the bath room?" asked the child. "I didn't know it needed no fixin'."

He led the agreeable plumber through the hall, down the long back porch to the bath room, remarking: "I'll jes' watch you work." And he seated himself in the only chair.

Here is where Billy received one of the greatest surprises of his life.

The fascinating stranger grabbed him with a rough hand and blazed: "Don't you dare open your mouth or I'll crack your head open and scatter your brains. I'll eat you alive."

The fierce, bloodshot eyes, which had seemed so laughing and merry before, now glared into those of the little boy as the man took a stout cord from his pocket, bound Billy to the chair and gagged him with a large bath towel. Energetic Mr. Jones took the key out of the door, shook his fist at the child, and went out, and locked the door behind him.

Jimmy seeing no hope of eluding Sarah Jane's vigilance, resorted to strategy and deceit.

"Tain't no fun settin' out here," he called to her, "so I'm going in the house and take a nap."

She willingly consented, as she was through with her ironing and thought to snatch a few winks of sleep herself.

The little boy slipped quietly through the house, noiselessly across the back yard and into his father's big garden, which was separated from that of his neighbor by a high board fence. He quickly climbed the fence, flew across Miss Minerva's tomato patch and tiptoed up her back steps to the back porch, his little bare feet giving no sign of his presence. Hearing curious noises coming from the bath room, where Billy was bumping the chair up and down in his efforts to release his mouth, he made for that spot, promptly unlocked the door and walked in, still by scuffling and tugging had freed his mouth from the towel that bound it at that moment.

"Hush!" he whispered as Jimmy opened the door, "you'll get eat up alive if you don't look out." His tone was so mysterious and thrilling and he looked so scared tied to the chair that the younger boy's blood almost froze in his veins.

"What you doing all tied up so?" he asked, in low, frightened tones.

"Mr. Algernon Jones done it. I spec' he's a robber an' is jes' a robbin' right now," answered Billy. "I'll untie you," said his chum.

Benjamin F. Neeley, known throughout this part of Ohio as a dealer in horses, is plaintiff in a damage suit to recover some $1351 from Mary E. Westenbarger, whom he alleges failed to keep her promise to marry him, and who secured the above amount of money from him.

Neeley alleged that while the defendant was yet single and engaged to him she married Boyd Westenbarger, who now sits in court beside his wife and smiles at the affair whenever occasion permits.

Prominent attorneys from Columbus are retained in the case, and the court room has been crowded during the hearing.

SHANNON RUMOR

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. of Clinton county have branded as false the charges against Prof. Shannon, who is alleged to have filled his pockets with auger bits while being shown through the Irwin Bit Works in Wilmington last week.

It will be remembered that a statement carried in the Greene Co. Journal reflected upon Professor Shannon. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. have caused the following to be published in the Wilmington papers: "There is a current rumor that Prof. Shannon, who recently lectured here on Soil Purity, was intercepted by the Superintendent of the Irwin Auger Bit Works in the act of carrying away a number of bits. The report, which has been given credit by the public, was that he was forced to give back to the superintendent bits which represented the various courses of manufacture through the factory.

"The report is erroneous. Prof. Shannon was escorted through the factory by a guide who pointed out the details of the work to him. Mr. Shannon asked if he would be allowed to take samples to use in illustrating his lectures. The guide gave him bits in the different processes of construction. Some of the employees observed that Shannon was pocketing augers and called the attention of the superintendent to the matter. In the presence of the guide the superintendent asked Shannon if it were true. The guide explained, and because the rules the factory forbade his taking them, Mr. Shannon gave back the bits.

"Thus there seems to be nothing at all in the rumor that the credulous public has seized upon. Mr. Shannon did what any other man might have done. His work here was of a high order and those under whose auspices he lectured do not want to see his labors go for naught because of false rumors."

WEAR WOOD SHOES

Forest Footwear Popular in an Indiana Town.

Measler German Settlement in Which a Wooden Shoe Factory Has Been Conducted for More Than Forty Years.

Huntingburg, Ind.—In the town of Ferdinand, this county, many of the older generation of Germans wear wooden shoes. Clemens Luecken of Ferdinand is a master carver of wooden shoes and his tiny shop is the mecca for Germans in quest of forest footwear. Dubois county is overwhelmingly German and many of the customs of "der vaterland" are observed with as much fervor as though Dubois county were actually ruled by the Kaiser. One of the customs in vogue at Ferdinand is the wearing of wooden shoes and for more than forty years Clemens Luecken has conducted a wooden shoe factory in the little town.

Not for one moment in all that time has Clemens Luecken allowed the leather trust to worry him. The soaring price of shoe leather has no terror for Mr. Luecken. As long as birch and poplar timber can be secured "Der Holtschuhmacher" will never care a rap whether Uncle Sam corners the rubber market or the leather trust corners Uncle Sam. Leather is an unknown quantity with Mr. Luecken. He specializes in the manufacture of wooden shoes and the fact that he has built up a business for more than forty years is proof enough that the demand for wooden shoes is pretty steady and that Clemens Luecken delivers the goods.

The shop wherein Mr. Luecken has worked at his trade for so many years is situated on a hill overlooking the little town of Ferdinand. The building is a low frame structure 12 feet square and occupies a site in the corner of the garden adjoining his home. The little building is well supplied with light there being three windows, a door and a skylight.

The floor of the shop is covered with wood chips. Tools such as are used by a skilled wood carver hang in orderly fashion about the walls. In one corner of the room stands a very small stove. His work bench in another corner consists of a six-foot log some 10 or 12 inches in diameter resting on four sticks of wood. In the center of this rudely constructed work bench is a groove. One cannot but admire the skill of the old German when he first shapes a block of wood to conform to the foot. He holds the block of shoe wood on a large oak block and wields a keen edged hatchet with a degree of accuracy that is amazing. Wood chips fly in all directions with each stroke of the hatchet. Gradually the block of wood assumes the form of a shoe. The block is then placed in the groove and an auger-like tool is used in boring out the interior of the shoe. The boring process continues until the interior is rounded out to conform to the shape of the foot. After the interior and exterior of the shoe are smoothed out it is ready for the wearer.

The shoes are made according to the length and breadth of the foot as computed by inches. The host of persons whom Luecken supplies with wooden shoes every year includes men, women and children. In price the shoes range from 45 to 65 cents. Shoes made of birch come higher because they last longer than those made of poplar and other wood. Luecken has turned out several pairs a day. In addition to supplying the regular demand of the hundreds of wooden shoe-wearers who buy them on credit, Luecken says that the young American has never formed the habit of wearing wooden shoes—the young American prefers tight fitting shoes made of leather and the painful corns that go with them. The feet of those who wear wooden shoes are never deformed by corns, bunions, etc.

If Luecken does not have your size shoe in stock and you are in a hurry he sends you to one of the general stores in Ferdinand, where you can make your selection from a large stock. He supplies the merchants with their stock of wooden shoes. It is a very common sight in Ferdinand to see a patron of Mr. Luecken drive into town wearing a pair of wooden shoes. They come from 1 parts of Dubois county.

AN INTELLIGENT ELEPHANT

Incident Which Helps to Solve the Much Discussed Problem, "Do Animals Think?"

London.—Recently an Indian elephant has covered considerable territory toward the solution of the much discussed problem, "Do animals think?" Ordered to drag a tree, which proved too heavy, urged and coaxed to continue her efforts, the chieftain by which the beast was fastened finally broke and she made a dash for the jungle.

It was supposed she would mix with the wild elephants and he could no more, but in an hour back she came bringing with her two other

State Rests In Murder Case

After a large number of witnesses had been examined within a very short time, and one after another gave damaging evidence against the defendant, Charles Gilsdorf, the state exhausted its number of witnesses and rested Thursday.

During his opening remarks in the case Prosecutor Boulker broke down and wept. His remarks were very impressive. Attorney for the defendant, Blosser, is fighting every inch of the ground, sometimes incurring the disgust of the spectators.

A lively tilt between Judge Goldberry and Attorney Blosser occurred Thursday.

It is believed that the defense will have all of the testimony introduced by this evening.

RENGO BELT CORSETS

make the most beautiful figure and do it with such comfort that they are a revelation to every woman who wears them for the first time.

Improper fitting of corsets, no matter how perfectly they are made, will produce a stiff and anything but graceful appearance, also a world of discomfort.

The new Rengo Belt Corsets are perfection as regards fit. Be sure to select a size not too small—and when you have the right size, the figure lines will be absolutely perfect whether you are stout or medium. Rengo Belt Corsets are designed for perfect form producers. The larger sizes are just as perfect as the smaller—the proportions throughout are beautiful.

It is because you do not need to select a tight, pinching size of these corsets in order to make a trim, neat figure that all women who wear them declare they are "a revelation of perfect lines and comfort." Many women actually believe that these two most desirable corset features cannot be combined in one garment.

To all such women we say—select a Rengo Belt Corset of comfortable size and you will be surprised at the slender appearance, grace and freedom of movement which will add charm to the superb lines of your figure.

Federal Building Prospects

ARE BRIGHT FOR WASHINGTON

Congressman Post Introduces Bill to Abolish Pension Agencies and Provide Payment.

Information from Washington D. C. indicates that there is a bright prospect for a government building being in this city as a result of the bill introduced by Congressman J. D. Post some time ago.

The recent action of Congress is very favorable toward the new government building for Washington, and in the reports sent out from the nation's capitol this city is one of the first mentioned among a number of Ohio cities, and consequently if any buildings are decided upon, the one for Washington will be one of them. There is every assurance to this effect.

Since the introduction of Mr. Post's bill for a $100,000 Federal building for Washington, the bill has been favorably considered until it is believed that only a matter of a few months' time will elapse until the necessary appropriation for the structure will be made.

Mr. Post has just introduced a bill to abolish certain pension agencies and to provide for the payment of pensions. This bill was referred to the Committee on Invalid Pensions and ordered printed.

The bill carries with it a proviso for $50,000 with which to carry out the changes recommended in the bill which are to abolish some 17 pension agencies scattered throughout the United States, and pay all pensioners direct from one office located at Washington. This would be the means of a large annual saving to the government.

Big Work is Planned

The greatest piece of work ever attempted in Central Ohio in the way of straightening and deepening the channel of a stream in order to obtain relief from overflow and reclaim a large tract of fertile land which is now practically worthless, is under contemplation by three large land owners in the Rattlesnake creek valley, seven miles west of this city in the neighborhood of the Wilmington pipe crossing.

The proposition is still little more than a dream, but within the next few days, or weeks the feasibility of the plan will be settled and the gigantic undertaking may be commenced within a short time, and by next fall several miles of the stream be straightened and deepened, making a channel which will afford a ready means of drainage, and reclaim the large "flood plain" of the big creek. For several miles the channel is none too well defined, being crooked and irregular with little depth.

Those at the head of the undertaking are said to be Willard A. Storey, G. L. Armstrong and Mr. Cramer, all residents of Chillicothe or Ross Co., and who own nearly fifteen hundred acres of land in the Rattlesnake valley, and whose loss each year by overflowing of the stream is a heavy one.

The plan of these gentlemen is to ascertain the practicability of the proposed work, and if it is pronounced feasible, interest other land owners in the movement for relief from floods, and eventually open up the channel in such manner that it will place the water level several feet lower than at present, and end for all time the damage by overflowing, and also reclaim the large tract of rich swamp lands bordering the stream.

The extent of the improvement is still a matter of mere conjecture, but it may ultimately result in the deepening and straightening of miles of the stream at a cost of tens of thousands of dollars, which would be paid by those benefited by the improvement.

If the proposition proves practical, a steam dredge would probably be used to do the work, and several months required in accomplishing the huge undertaking.

Something more definite will probably come to light within a short time. Meanwhile the project will be watched with great interest.

New York—Jim Zanora, one of the best known trick bicycle riders in the United States, risks his life at every public appearance and knows how necessary it is for him to have a steady nerve and unfailing strength.

The slightest weakness might cost him his life, or injure him severely, and this letter from him is of great interest on that account. He says:

"I do trick bicycle riding as a professional and work hard, and so I was always tired and weak. I got so I had no strength and felt all run down, but since using three bottles of Vinol I feel fine again. I have recommended Vinol to others and they too are using it with good results."

Your strength is just as valuable to you, and we want to say to you that there is nothing so good as Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, for making weak and worn-out people robust, rugged and well. Another Murder In Circleville

Another murder occurred in Circleville some time during Thursday night, when John Carr, night-watchman at the Sears & Nichols Company's plant was shot down and found dead Friday morning. His murderer escaped.

Two chambers of the murdered man's revolver were empty, and it is believed that he wounded his assassin. The police have a clew which they are working upon.
